1. Committee's Official Designation (Title)

The Committee's designation is the Advisory Committee on Historical Diplomatic Documentation ("Committee").

2. Authority

The Committee is established under the authority of Sec. 198 of the Foreign Affairs Authorization Act, Fiscal Years 1992 and 1993, P.L. 102-138, which added Title IV to the State Department Basic Authorities Act of 1956 (22 U.S.C. §§ 4351-4357) (hereinafter "the SDBAA"), as amended in the Foreign Relations Authorization Act, Fiscal Year 2003, and the Federal Advisory Committee Act (hereinafter "FACA"), P.L. 92-463. This advisory role does not extend to personnel issues in the Office of the Historian covered by internal Department of State or Federal personnel regulations and for which the Department of State already has established remedial channels.

The Committee shall also review Department of State procedures for the declassification of Department records, their transfer to the National Archives and Records Administration, and their opening for public inspection and copying. This process will include the review of all declassification guidelines and the random sampling of representative Department records that must remain classified after 30 years.

4. Description of Duties

The report shall: (i) apprise the Secretary of the results of the Committee's review of Department of State declassification procedures, declassification guidelines, and random samplings of documents remaining classified after 30 years; (ii) summarize the Committee's recommendations regarding the preparation and publication of the Foreign Relations series; (iii) advise the Secretary of any determination by the Committee that records proposed for, or already included in, a Foreign Relations volume have been so altered or changed by deletions made during the declassification review process that such records could be misleading or lead to an inaccurate or incomplete historical record; and (iv) advise the Secretary of any determinations by the Committee that the selection of any group of documents relating to a particular topic and proposed for, or already included in, a Foreign Relations volume could be misleading or lead to an inaccurate historical record.

The Executive Secretary will supply copies of the report to the Library of Congress, to the organizations represented on the Committee, and to other interested persons. The Committee may also make to the Assistant Secretary of State for Public Affairs for appropriate action ad hoc, written or oral reports or recommendations regarding the preparation of the Foreign Relations series.
